The event is just two weeks distant and everything is set for a glorious and happy occasion—an occasion unprecedented by anything of a like nature...

Local organizations are playing their part in planning a welcome, in providing entertainment and looking after your comfort, and nothing is being left undone to make the home-coming and following days of celebration one of the best that the town can afford.

Read the following pages for historical news, for the program, for announcements, for local and general news, for write-ups of industries old and new, for photos of people and local scenes.

The Gazette has taken an active interest in the coming celebration and has given unstinted space to the publicity program. It has been a pleasure to the editor and staff and we hope our readers will enjoy the present effort of The Gazette in placing before you this special edition.

While most of the historical facts are authentic, we have been able to give only a skeleton sketch owing to limitations of space in this issue. To review the history of the village in chronological order with its various business changes would take too long, so we have only touched on the main items and outstanding events that we have been able to unearth from one source and another...

St. Andrew's Church Anniversary Services

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their anniversary services on Sunday last, when Rev. J. J. Zimmerman, D.D., of Ingersoll, occupied the pulpit and preached two very acceptable sermons to large congregations. Special music was given by a quartette from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, the members being Mrs. Barr and Mr. Gowans. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barr and Miss Sawbridge. At the morning service, solo: "Open the Gates" by Mr. Gowans; "He's Knocking at My Heart" by Mrs. Finlay and Mr. Barr. At the evening service the quartette sang "One Sweet Solemn Thought" by Mr. Gowans, and a duet, "Come Holy Spirit," by Miss Currah and Mr. Gowans.
 On Monday evening a delightful concert was put on by the choir of St. Paul's Church, Ingersoll, with Mr. W. J. Sutherland as leader and Mr. Ewart Bartley as piano accompanist. Rev. T. J. Murdoch, D.D., of Shakespeare, very capably filled the chair. The choir of twenty-five voices gave a number of excellent solos, and the male chorus of six voices was also very pleasing. Solos by Mrs. Snel and the cornet numbers by Messrs. Cable and Jones were well received and drew encores. Miss Englehart's recitation, using a large number of the poems were well presented from outside points, both at the Sunday services and the concert, and the officials are very gratified with the success of their anniversary.

TAVISTOCK KNITTING MILLS
 J. G. Field & Son - Proprietors

The woolen industry in Tavistock dates back to 1868, but the present proprietors are the only ones of many of this district who have survived through the changing times. In 1877 Mr. J. G. Field took over the woolen mill, a small concern, employing three or four hands, and by dint of hard work and long hours, perseverance and business foresight, gradually increased the business, adding new lines and improved machinery from time to time as needed. In the earlier days the mill turned out sweeds, woollens, blankets, etc., but in 1915, during the world war, the mill changed over to the exclusive manufacture of woollen socks at the request of the Dominion Government. It meant almost complete change of machinery. This was done at considerable expense, and when the demands of the Government had been met, the proprietors continued the manufacture of woollen socks. In 1919, his son, J. V. Field, became partner in the business and since then the business has been carried on as J. G. Field & Son. The proprietors have continued adding up-to-date equipment, and the mill is running at the present time to its full capacity, and employ around 50 hands. Their product is sold from coast to coast. The mill is a model of neatness with the latest equipment and modern conveniences.

A Short Historical Sketch

It's a long way back to 1848, when Tavistock was first founded, but we will have to go back a few years more, to 1820, when the first survey of the district was made.
 In 1822 another survey was made, but it was not until the year 1833 that a final survey of what is known as the Huron Tract was made by Mr. C. Carrol.
 The first settler in the township of South Easthope, which was named after Lord Easthope, one of the principal directors of the Canada Company, was Sebastian Frygole, who located at Lot 14, Concession 8, in 1829. He was induced to move into the Huron Tract by Col. Von Egmond, one of the chief agents of the Canada Company, who wanted to establish three taverns in the newly surveyed tract of land. The Company offered a bonus of £40, £50 and £60 to the first settler who would keep a tavern for six months from the beginning of the year 1830, at certain places designated by the Company. The surveyors of the Huron Tract had already erected log cabins for the purpose and Mr. Frygole accepted the £200 or £40 and moved into the South Easthope tract, the nearest one to civilization, on Christmas Day 1829. There he stayed until death called him in the year 1873. Frygole came from Switzerland. We find the next settler was a Scotchman, Andrew Riddell, who settled in South Easthope in 1832, on Lot 17. After him came John Heimer, John A. McCarthy and others from the old land.
 We find the first school section was formed in 1842 and the first teacher was James Izzard. The section extended from the Wilnot line to Lot 15, the line of division between the Huron Road and Zorra on the south. The first birth in South Easthope was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frygole, who later became Mrs. Dietrich.
 In 1842 Douglas McTavish located on Lot 32, Concession 8, adjoining the Zorra Townline. Mr. L. A. McTavish, former manager of the Standard Bank, is a great grandson of this pioneer.
 The members of the first council of South Easthope were: Andrew Heimer, reeve; councillors: P. A. Schwing, Wm. Cassey, Peter Woods; Alex. Mitchell, clerk; A. Riddell, treasurer; R. Johnston, John Stinson, Wm. McLean, assessors; Geo. Kalbheisch, collector; H. Reuler and Jas. Woods, auditors. These officials were appointed and took the oath of office at Bell's Corners, now called Shakespeare.
 Coming nearer home we find that Sebastopol preceded Tavistock by a few years, the first settler being Mr. Henry Heycock, who erected the first home in 1845. He was followed by Henry Eckstein, who remained in Sebastopol for three years. The plan for Sebastopol was in 1852-5 during the Russian war, after the town of that name in the Crimea. Henry Eckstein having heard of it, always going through about a mile south of Sebastopol decided to locate as near the proposed line as possible and built himself a log building on the corner of what is now known as Woodstock Street and

The next names to come to our notice are those of Henry Schaefer, Antoni Gureklick, John H. Holmer, Mr. Bellinger, August Reberberger and Duncan Stewart, as some of the first settlers following Eckstein.
 In 1868 Mr. John Zimmerman, father of the present Zimmerman Brothers, opened a barrel and stave factory. The present finely equipped plant was erected in 1924.
 The woollen mill was first established by Mr. Preston in 1829, who sold out in 1869 to John Steinman and John Gerhardt. Steinman bought out Gerhardt and then in 1877 sold the business to Field and Hetherington and Field later bought out Hetherington.
 Among the established industries of Oxford County, in the village of Tavistock, is that of Zimmerman Bros., limited, one of the largest concerns in this particular line in Western Ontario. This industry was established in 1868 by the late John Zimmerman, as a stave and heading plant. It was carried over by him until his retirement in 1900 when he transferred the business to his three sons, Harry and George Zimmerman. The name was then changed to Zimmerman Bros., and in 1919 it was incorporated as Zimmerman Bros. Limited. In 1906 they purchased the planing mill and box factory of J. Kalbheisch and entered the box and stave industry. This business has shown a steady growth and at the present time boxes and shooks comprise from eighty-five to ninety per cent of their total output. There are ninety hands employed in the plant today. Butter boxes and other kinds of containers are manufactured and in addition a large quantity of shooks are shipped ready for assembly. The material going into these products is chiefly spruce and pine. The plant has a daily capacity of some 100 boxes requiring in the neighbourhood of 40,000 feet of lumber.
 With the fast growth of the village, with its various industries, the first authentic statement we may make at this time is that Rev. W. Horn conducted the first service among the Germans in the settlement sometime in the early thirties. In 1856 a church was erected, during the pastorate of Rev. C. Kaessman, at Sebastopol, but we haven't any records at hand to say how long this pastor remained. It was during the pastorate of their beloved pastor, Rev. F. Veit, that a present brick edifice was erected at a cost of some sixteen thousand dollars. (Continued on page 4)

An item of worth while interest, in connection with the early history of Tavistock, is as follows—The first mill ever operated in Tavistock was under the management of Mr. George Malcolm, and was situated on the site where the Tavistock Gazette is now published weekly. This statement comes from Mr. William Blane, who resides on Lot 38, Con. 6, South Easthope. Mr. Blane was employed by Mr. Malcolm when he was just a boy, over sixty years ago.

THE LATE F. KRUG

Came to Canada in 1847. First worked in Tavistock in Jacob Wagner's log store, commenced business for himself in 1872 and sold out in 1917. Died on Friday, February 27, 1925.

Hope Street intersection, in the year 1848, which he used as a store and a dwelling. He named the place and burg after his home town in Germany. Later, during the Crimean war, the hamlet was re-named Inkerman.

There were only five families in the place previous to the completion of the railway. These were: Chas. Wood, storekeeper; D. H. Carrs, hotel-keeper; Robert Reid, general utility man; W. H. Munro, tinsmith, and Henry Eckstein, who kept a tavern in a log building. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eckstein: a son Fred and a daughter, who is now Mrs. P. Doer. Fred passed away some time ago but his widow and son are still living in the village.

With the completion of the railway in 1857 Inkerman took deep root and started to grow and many of the inhabitants of Sebastopol moved to the fast growing village. A post office was opened up in the same year and was named the name Tavistock. From that time on more substantial and modern homes and business places were erected. Even before the stein took the lead by starting the erection of a hotel in 1850, which is now known as The Commercial. In later years it was re-built. Its several owners since 1850 have been Henry Eckstein, John Loh, Otto Jung, John Landreth and the present owner, Jacob Meisner.

A post office was opened up in the same year and was named the name Tavistock. From that time on more substantial and modern homes and business places were erected. Even before the stein took the lead by starting the erection of a hotel in 1850, which is now known as The Commercial. In later years it was re-built. Its several owners since 1850 have been Henry Eckstein, John Loh, Otto Jung, John Landreth and the present owner, Jacob Meisner.

THE LATE F. KRUG

Came to Canada in 1847. First worked in Tavistock in Jacob Wagner's log store, commenced business for himself in 1872 and sold out in 1917. Died on Friday, February 27, 1925.

Hope Street intersection, in the year 1848, which he used as a store and a dwelling. He named the place and burg after his home town in Germany. Later, during the Crimean war, the hamlet was re-named Inkerman.

There were only five families in the place previous to the completion of the railway. These were: Chas. Wood, storekeeper; D. H. Carrs, hotel-keeper; Robert Reid, general utility man; W. H. Munro, tinsmith, and Henry Eckstein, who kept a tavern in a log building. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eckstein: a son Fred and a daughter, who is now Mrs. P. Doer. Fred passed away some time ago but his widow and son are still living in the village.

With the completion of the railway in 1857 Inkerman took deep root and started to grow and many of the inhabitants of Sebastopol moved to the fast growing village. remember and often speak of this event.
Henry Rausch went to school in Sebastopol and was taught by Mr. Greenwald in a log building. He also attended the Lutheran Mission in Sebastopol and was confirmed at the age of fourteen years. In 1851, the minister at that time being the Rev. Carl Aldenkirch. He remained at home for the next three years, helping on the farm. Being handy with the pen and pencil, he was employed by Dundee, St. Jacobs, Berlin and other places, working as a carpenter, but returned to Tavistock in 1854 and has lived here ever since, plying his trade as a painter and carpenter.
There were no railroads in the early days and groceries had to be brought in from New Hamburg and flour had to be procured from Galt, teams being mostly used for the purpose. Bears, wolves and deer roamed the forests in the immediate vicinity and one never felt safe alone on a trip, or out at night.

Many buildings in the village have been erected by Mr. Rausch and he lent his assistance in the development of Tavistock socially and commercially, contributing liberally to all worthy enterprises.
Tavistock has a wide-awake and progressive Horticultural Society which has done much to beautify the village and is still doing it. Its members take a pride in beautifying their own places as well as assisting in putting out public flower beds.
The Women's Institute is another live organization in the municipality, who have the welfare of the community at heart. Last year they erected the beautiful gates at the entrance to Queen's Park.
The Agricultural Society is another old institution in the village and was started back in the '70's. The men who kept it alive were the Late Fred

Of these sixty-seven men only four are living here today, they are J. G. Field, Frederick Siegner, the greater number have passed to their reward, and a very few may be living elsewhere.
It brings with it many changes and only two of the above are still actively engaged in any kind of business in Tavistock today. With the passing of the years many new faces and names came within our confines and today we find a new list of business men, although some of the present men have been here for some time.
In 1917 and since there have been a number of changes. In that year it is recorded that the late F. Krug sold out his long established business to The Glasgow Warehouse Co.; V. Stock sold out to Hansen & Pepler; Hansen & Pepler sold out to W. C. E. Heinbach, and towards the end of 1917 we find the name of Pepler Bros.
Other prominent men were M. Staebler, jeweller; Kathelisch & Appel, builders; Adam Seltzer, baker; Adam Ratz, miller; Henry G. Hahn; F. W. Entricken; J. W. Ratz; H. H. Ruppel, the shoe business; Dr. M. Steel; J. S. Koch; A. Schaefer; Andrew Baechler; Ed. Roth; A. E. Roth, Chas. Kaufman and P. C. Lemp and many others.
Other old residents, who make a link with the early days of Tavistock, are J. K. Lemp and Edward Bauer.

A. E. RATZ

Krug, Conrad Wilker and J. G. Field. These three men gave their personal notes when the present grounds were purchased and stayed with the organization until the debt was cleared off. W. S. Russell was the secretary and J. G. Field the president. Before the park grounds were purchased the annual fair was held wherever available farm grounds could be had. The Society has a membership of two hundred now and has an excellent prize list and an exhibition that would do credit to places of much larger size.
The South Easthope Mutual Fire Insurance Company was organized in 1871 and has made rapid strides and today is one of the largest of its kind in the province. The head office is in Tavistock.

F. W. Hay Returns to North Perth
At the Liberal convention in North Perth, held in Milverton on Monday, F. W. Hay, member for the constituency in the recently dissolved parliament, definitely announced his retirement from public life. The names of George Graff, J. Morgan Eisdell and Dr. F. F. Quinn were placed in nomination but all three said they could not act. The executive decided to hold another nomination meeting next Monday in Milverton and efforts will be made to have Mr. Hay reconsider his decision to retire.

PRESTON STEEL TRUSS BARN
LIGHTNING HASN'T DESTROYED ONE
Crops, property and livestock destroyed by fire and lightning last year amounted to more than $2,000,000 in Ontario. That's one of the reasons so many farmers are now using RIB-ROLL—the original new-style roofing. It defies fire, eliminates up-keep, increases property values and lasts a lifetime. Protected against lightning when properly grounded and equipped with Preston Pointed Ventilators—as required by the Lightning Rod Act. Each sheet has seven ribs—a nail every five inches. It is wonderfully easy and inexpensive to lay. Made of the famous "Council Standard" quality. Under the most severe weather conditions RIB-ROLL keeps every building on the farm safe and secure.
Use Rib-Roll Roofing and Preston Led-Hed Nails
RIB-ROLL and PRESTON LED-HED nails form an unbreakable roofing combination. The nails are scientifically designed to use with metal roofing. No punching or shoving required. Remarkably easy and speedy to use. The lead on the lead compound seals the nail hole—making it rust proof, weather-proof and secure. Write for free samples of RIB-ROLL and PRESTON LED-HED NAILS.
Preston Steel Truss Barns
No barn made equals in strength and fire resistance the PRESTON STEEL TRUSS BARN. Built with rugged steel trusses, sheathed against wind pressure from every angle. No compromise cross-bracing. Well ventilated, well lighted. More than 1,000 in Ontario—most one loss through lightning. We use your timbers and make liberal allowances for them.
Preston Barn Ventilators
Abolish danger of spontaneous combustion. Use Preston ventilators for roof, side wall adjustable Pointed Ventilators and wide doors. They draw out the warm, moist air and insure proper ventilation.
FREE BOOK
"The Preston Book" is worth money to you. Gives a world of information about modern building methods and why they are better for you.
We offer attractive terms to responsible farmers on roofing and siding for needed repairs for their buildings. Write for full particulars.

A BARRIER TO FIRE, STORM AND WEATHER
Crops, property and livestock destroyed by fire and lightning last year amounted to more than $2,000,000 in Ontario. That's one of the reasons so many farmers are now using RIB-ROLL—the original new-style roofing. It defies fire, eliminates up-keep, increases property values and lasts a lifetime. Protected against lightning when properly grounded and equipped with Preston Pointed Ventilators—as required by the Lightning Rod Act. Each sheet has seven ribs—a nail every five inches. It is wonderfully easy and inexpensive to lay. Made of the famous "Council Standard" quality. Under the most severe weather conditions RIB-ROLL keeps every building on the farm safe and secure.
Use Rib-Roll Roofing and Preston Led-Hed Nails
RIB-ROLL and PRESTON LED-HED nails form an unbreakable roofing combination. The nails are scientifically designed to use with metal roofing. No punching or shoving required. Remarkably easy and speedy to use. The lead on the lead compound seals the nail hole—making it rust proof, weather-proof and secure. Write for free samples of RIB-ROLL and PRESTON LED-HED NAILS.
Preston Steel Truss Barns
No barn made equals in strength and fire resistance the PRESTON STEEL TRUSS BARN. Built with rugged steel trusses, sheathed against wind pressure from every angle. No compromise cross-bracing. Well ventilated, well lighted. More than 1,000 in Ontario—most one loss through lightning. We use your timbers and make liberal allowances for them.
Preston Barn Ventilators
Abolish danger of spontaneous combustion. Use Preston ventilators for roof, side wall adjustable Pointed Ventilators and wide doors. They draw out the warm, moist air and insure proper ventilation.

East Zorra Notes

Here we are again in this bright and lovely month of June and when we take notice how everything is in its glory it certainly makes us feel young again, but seasons come and seasons go, and time keeps slipping by. So, why not attend the Old Boys' Reunion in our nice town of Tavistock and spend a few days with our old boys, and a few happy days as we may be gone tomorrow. Furthermore, the reunion will be held under strict orders, and no person needs to be afraid to attend as two provincial officers and our chief, John Schimpf, will be on the lookout to have things run in accordance with the law. So come and join up our good old town along. Bring your father, your mother, your sister, your brother, your sweetheart, or your wife and family and get in good time, which we will assure you. So Hurrah for the Old Boys' Reunion in Tavistock, June 23rd.

We mentioned in last week's issue of our weekly paper that wedding bells would soon be ringing north of Cassel and now we have the opportunity of mentioning the names of the parties. Harold Stock, son of our road superintendent, Mr. Wm. Stock, and Mrs. Stock, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Margaret Junker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Junker, on Wednesday, June 12th, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed in the East Zorra Lutheran Church on Wednesday, June 12th, by the pastor, Rev. Jno. Scheer. Our wish to the young couple is a happy and prosperous married life as both are jolly good people.

A pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Junker on Friday last week, when the members of the Young People's League and friends (O, excuse me, dear friends) were gathered for a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stock and presented them with a miscellaneous shower. Mr. and Mrs. Stock are in the highest esteem by one and all. The following address was read by Miss Olive Wettlaufer, our councillor, Mr. John Wettlaufer, our councillor, of the 18th Line, and Mrs. Wettlaufer, of the 18th Line.

East Zorra, June 6th, 1930.
Dear Friends—
Having learned of your approaching marriage, a number of your friends have gathered this evening to give expression of your friendship all through the past years. We have been through the brightest and most highly esteemed members of our circle and by your unflinching kindness of heart and other admirable qualities you have brought happiness to those with whom you came in contact, and we feel sure you will appreciate their few gifts as a token of regard and wish you the richest blessings of Divine Providence. Signed on behalf of your friends, Hilda Junker, Chris. Bender and Louis Junker.

The annual reunion of the Bender-Schlegel family will be held at the home of Mr. Aaron Schlegel, South farm of Easthope, on Saturday, June 14th. Several hundred invitations have been issued and it is expected that more than six hundred members of these families will assemble for this event.

DISTRICT EVANGELICAL CHURCHES RELIGIOUS EDUCATION CONFERENCE

The annual Religious Education Rally of the Stratford district of the Evangelical Church was held at Easthope, on Saturday, June 14th. Several hundred invitations have been issued and it is expected that more than six hundred members of these families will assemble for this event.

The evening session was opened with a song service, led by Rev. A. W. Sauer of Dashwood. After an anthem by the South Easthope Church choir, Rev. W. Y. Dreier gave a short address on "Religious Education." The opening devotional period was taken by the pastor, Rev. O. Hahn. The hundredth was on open discussion.

The afternoon devotional period was taken by Rev. J. P. Hauch, of Stratford. Five inspiring messages under the symposium "Elements of Strength" were then delivered. "The Sanctuary" by Arthur Amy was very interesting and helpful. The second speaker, Mrs. W. E. Beese, of South Easthope, spoke on "Prayer and Praise."

W. Edgihoffer spoke on "Scriptures." The Bible is polished and refined the soul so that we must grow in Bible knowledge. The fourth element of was taken by Mr. E. H. Oehm of South Easthope. The last speaker, Mr. W. J. Smith, of Stratford, spoke on "Witnessing by Word and Deed." Our actions speak louder than our words so we must remember that we are always being examined.

The Wednesday evening session was opened by Rev. W. Y. Dreier. Rev. J. P. Hauch, Stratford, gave the rally sermon on a verse from the Bible: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."—Joshua 24:15. The delegates from Tavistock were Rev. W. E. Beese, Mr. Henry Leinweber, Mr. Gordon Alles and Miss Ivy Baechler. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. H. Schlemmer, Mr. Wesley Baechler, Mrs. Beese, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Manz and Miss L. Miller.

Vitamins Shareholders Meet; Mill is Practically Assured

The shareholders of the Vitamins Milling Company of Canada, Limited, numbering about forty-four in Tavistock and community, met in Baechler's hall on Thursday evening and were addressed by the vice-president, A. Baechler, who acted as chairman, and also by Mr. Coombs, who reported much progress in the Company and outlined the wonderful field and awaiting market for the product. As was planned the mill would have an initial capacity of 300 barrels per day. The new patented process, of which the Company has the exclusive right for Canada, grinds the whole wheat to as fine a texture as white flour and retains all the mineral salts and vitamins. Two mills are now operating in United States and have increased their capacity since first starting. While the objective has not been reached, Mr. Coombs told the meeting that the mill would be started here soon, as it was fully decided that Tavistock was the logical place. It is intended to locate mills at Quebec, Kingston and in the province of Manitoba.

DIAMOND JUBILEE THE MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

SIXTY YEARS OF STEADY PROGRESS

ESTABLISHED in 1869, the Mutual Life of Canada commenced business in 1870 and is this year celebrating its Diamond Jubilee. During sixty years the Company has advanced steadily and today ranks as one of the strongest companies on the Continent. On the opening of the Office in 1870, the amount of assurance in force was $500,000. On January 1st, 1930, this had increased to $461,310,685. Five years after its inception the total assets of the Company had reached the sum of $3,601. On its sixtieth anniversary the same amount is represented by $107,408,986.43. These figures speak for themselves.

Profits Returned To Policyholders

Under the mutual system all profits earned are returned to the policyholders. Furthermore, every policyholder may have a direct voice in the management of the company. Thus the purely mutual company is economical, safe and democratic.

Motto

"Each for all and all for each," is the motto of the Mutual Life, and on this principle is based a large measure of the success of the company.

Approved By Policyholders

THE PROOF that present policyholders in the Mutual Life of Canada approve of their Company is shown by the fact that forty per cent. of our new business in 1928 came from people who already had policies in the Company.
